Tie Club

Natalie

Silas

Two weeks ago, we had two tie winners. Natalie Allen and Silas Robinson earned ties due to their excellent effort and consistency in completing their homework. We greatly appreciate their desire to be responsible and work hard at something that is important. Great job and keep it going!

Alyson

Carter

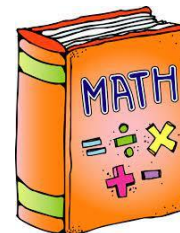

Last week's tie winners earned their ties due to great attitude. Both students, Alyson Greene and Carter Waldron, show positivity in class every day. They are always willing to do what is asked of them every day in class and have a smile on their face. May your positive attitude be contagious and continue forever. Great job!

Addi

This week for tie club we wanted to recognize someone who has stood out during our RTI time. Addi Berrevoets was nominated for a tie for her outstanding consistent effort, participation, and attitude during her RTI time every single day. Thank you Addi for taking that time seriously and doing such a nice job.

Math:

In math we are still working on a unit dealing with volume, area, and geometry. We will continue working on geometry next week, having a review next Thursday, and taking a test on Friday. We then will start a unit on coordinates and functions.

Language Arts:

Rosa Parks has been our focus this week. Students read an account of her famous bus ride and discussed the lasting effects. They also used text evidence to visualize Rosa's thoughts. Next week we will begin working on reading a drama.

Spelling: Spelling lists go home on Monday. Students need to complete both sides of the paper and return it on Thursday.

AR Reading Goals: March is Reading month. All students have a goal of 10 points for the month.

Science: Students were able to complete a salmon life cycle activity this week. The salmon will be released at the end of April. Next week we will begin our next unit on chemical reactions.

History:

In history we just took a history test on the American Revolution after spending two days reviewing with two different review sheets. We are now going to start learning about the problems with the Articles of Confederation and why the United States almost fell apart. Then we will study our current Constitution and how our government is set up.
