Dear Parents,

I hope the beginning of the school year has gone smoothly at home! It has been great to get to know your students! I am excited for the school year and I appreciate all the communication I have had with parents so far! If you are not on the class dojo, please reach out via email so I can add you!

Math- Math has started out great! We are working on multiplication and know our math facts! Ask your students about the skip counting song! Math homework should be coming home everyday except for the final day of the week, so please check for it! We use a skill program for progress tracking called IXL. We have answered 37,258 questions this year already in math and ELA! We are in unit 2, so I will hopefully have unit 1 tests graded this weekend!

Wonders- We have started our Unit 2 for Wonders! This unit focuses on Expository, Historical Fiction, and Poetry texts! We will be writing a thanksgiving poem as this unit will end near Thanksgiving!

We have weekly spelling tests! Part of their homework is to study those each night! I will send home a list for you to review with your student at home throughout the week. Spelling tests will be on Fridays!

Science- We are currently taking a break from science and working on Social Studies now that we have finished our first Science unit.

Social Studies- We are working on and about to finish our first Chapter of our "Meet Michigan" book where the students are learning the basic geography and history of our states.

If you have any questions you can email me at sweetj@bas-k12.org or call me at 616-287-0315!

Enjoy your weekend and thank you for being awesome parents!

Mr. Sweet
